

“Connectivity across the Public Sector”
Free of Charge LMN Event, 3rd March 2006, RIBA, London

9.45-10.00	Registration with coffee/tea
10.00-10.25	Welcome and Opening by Professor Roland Rosner, Director, Education & Information Support Division University College London
10.25-10.40	Peter Reid, London Technology Network
10.40-10.55	Steve Pennant, London Connects
10.55-11.25	Jean Sykes, London School of Economics
11.25-11.50	Russell Altendorff, London Business School
11.50-12.00	Q’s & A’s Session for the Delegates

12.00- 13.00	Networking Buffet lunch with a selection of wine and beer – networking opportunity and poster sessions from across London’s leading institutions showcasing the latest LMN business cases with its commercial partners.
---------------------	--

1. Opening and presentation into “Connectivity between the universities and the NHS: a case study of collaboration across the public sector” by Prof. Roland Rosner, Director, Education & Information Support Division, UCL

2. Best Practice examples: focus on innovation
Peter Reid, CEO, London Technology Network

- Collaboration – what does it take to make it work
- Collaboration – does it produce public good
- Examples from the HE and business partnerships

3. Trials and Tribulations: joining up London’s Local Authorities and Voluntary Services
Steve Pennant, CEO, London Connects

- Collaboration – what does it take to make it work
- Collaboration – what public value does it produce
- Examples from the London Local Authorities

4. Best Practice examples: focus on public good
Jean Sykes, Librarian and Director of Information Services, London School of Economics and Political Science

- Collaboration – what does it take to make it work
- Collaboration – does it produce public good
- Examples from library services

5. How to create commercial breakthroughs through collaboration
Russell Altendorff, Director, Information Services Division, London Business School

- Overcoming collaboration inertia
- Improving service levels
- Creating best practice legal frameworks
- Collaboration and commercial power
- Collaboration and commercial innovation

All events are by INVITATION ONLY

For further information, contact m.ilia@lmn.net.uk © LMN 2006 programme may be subject to change