

“Web 2.0 Technologies”

Free of Charge<sup>1</sup> LMN Event, 30th April 2008, Brunei Gallery, SOAS

London Metropolitan Network Ltd (LMN) LMN is happy to invite you at this event with the scope to highlight the key issues around the use, implementation and compliance of Web 2.0 technologies.

- 1.45-2.00 Registration with coffee/tea
- 2.10-2.20 Welcome and Opening by Chair
- 2.20-2.35 What is Web 2.0? Implications for education – Intelligent Content, Nottingham
- 2.35-2.55 Web 2.0 in practice- SOAS
- 2.55-3.20 Not So Virtual Liability: Web 2.0 and the Law- JISC Legal
- 3.20-3.40 Learning 2.0- Ravensbourne College of Arts
- 3.40-4.00 Q's & A's Session for the Delegates

4.00 onwards Networking Reception with a selection of wine and beer and nibbles

1. Introduction by the Chair

2. Paul Anderson, CEO, Intelligent Content, Nottingham and Technical Editor for JISC Technology and Standards Watch

Web 2.0: education, technical implications and requirements

3. Malcolm Raggett, CIO, SOAS

Case Study: Web 2.0 in practice at SOAS

4. Jason Campbell, Service Manager at JISC Legal Information Service

Outline of how to ensure that your institution's enthusiastic adoption of brave new technologies does not fall foul of the law. Issues addressed will include:

- liability for illegal content
- defamation
- intellectual property
- accessibility duties
- data protection

5. Miles Metcalfe, Director of IT, Ravensbourne College of Arts

- How user-owned technology and extra-institutional social software (and other web applications) are changing the way we teach and learn.
- What are the challenges we face as institutions, and as pedagogues?

6. A chance for the delegates to ask questions and share comments

All events are by INVITATION ONLY For further information, contact m.ilia@lmn.net.uk
© LMN 2008 programme may be subject to change

---

<sup>1</sup> LMN events are FREE for the LMN members and associates. Should non-members wish to attend LMN events please contact our events coordinator Carolyn at lmn@lmn.net.uk